	J. Casimer Jacyna	3751

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

1. Applicant's election of group 1, figures 1A and 1B, in the reply filed on 5/20/2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

2. Claims 2-6 and 8-12 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 5/20/2005.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 7 provides for the use of the valve according to claim 1, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

6. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35

U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

8. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Browne et al.

Browne discloses a use for a sanitary diaphragm valve in the biological and chemical industries (see paragraph 2) which use is applicable to the valve of claim 1 as claimed.

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Palumbo teaches a diaphragm valve with a slip mechanism at 17 that allows the handle to move or slip a distance before engagement and movement of the stem when the bottom wall of 13 contacts 17. Boteler/427 teaches a diaphragm valve having a stem housing 42 and 80 with a second threaded opening at 80 that engages a stem 78 with the upper flat surface of 78 being the top and a middle portion counter threaded to engage the stem housing 80 and 42 and a slipping mechanism 84 located about the stem housing with the stem housing 42 being between the handle 52 and the slipping mechanism 84. Boteler/211 teaches another diaphragm valve with the slipping mechanism 34 located between the stem and the stem housing.

Art Unit: 3751

10. Claim 1 is allowed. The prior art of record does not teach a diaphragm valve that includes a housing having a flow housing and a stem housing with a second opening that is threaded, a stem with a bottom shaped to mate with the flow housing and a middle threaded to engage the second opening in the stem housing, a diaphragm between the stem bottom and the flow housing area as claimed wherein a handle is provided for the valve and a slipping mechanism is located between the handle and the stem.
